INTRODUCTION

This supplement contains information on the development of bibliographical services throughout the world obtained by means of a questionnaire the text of which is reproduced hereafter. The aim of this supplement is to complete the data given in the handbook entitled Bibliographical services throughout the world, 1975-1979, by Marcelle Beaudiquez, which is at present in press.

We shall recall that the first annual survey of bibliographical services existing throughout the world covered the period from 1951 to 1952. Drawn up for Unesco by Miss L.N. Malclès, it was used as a working document for the first meeting of the International Advisory Committee on Bibliography held in 1953. Since that time a similar survey has been made each year, with cumulative bibliographies every five or ten years. The last annual survey, covering the year 1978, was published as a supplement to No. 1, Vol. 8 (1980) of the Unisist newsletter.

Following a re-examination of the aims, content and format of the survey (annual or five-year) published so far, it was decided to revise the questionnaire on bibliographical services throughout the world. Given the variety of questions asked and the irrelevance of many of the replies, it was considered desirable to limit the questionnaire from now on to items relating solely to bibliographical control. It was also decided that as from now it would be sufficient to send out the questionnaire every two years to keep in step with the evolution of bibliographical services.

Readers are kindly requested to study the questionnaire on page vi and to let us have their comments and suggestions, with a view to the production of a new questionnaire to be sent out at the end of 1982, to the following address:

INTRODUCTION

Ce supplément contient des informations sur le développement des services bibliographiques dans le monde qui ont été recueillies au moyen d'un questionnaire dont le texte est reproduit ci-après. Ce supplément a pour but de compléter les informations contenues dans le manuel intitulé: Les Services bibliographiques dans le monde, 1975-1979, par Marcelle Beaudiquez, actuellement sous presse.

Il convient de rappeler que le premier inventaire annuel des services bibliographiques existant dans le monde portait sur la période 1951-1952. Etabli pour l'Unesco par Mlle L.N. Malclès, il a constitué un document de travail pour la première réunion du Comité consultatif international de bibliographie, qui s'est tenue en 1953. Depuis lors, il a été procédé chaque année à un inventaire similaire, avec des bibliographies cumulatives tous les cinq ou dix ans. Le dernier inventaire annuel, qui couvrait l'année 1978, a été publié sous forme de supplément au No. 1, Vol. 3 (1980) du Bulletin de l'Unisist.

A la suite d'un réexamen des objectifs, du contenu et de la forme des inventaires (annuels ou quinquennaux) effectués jusqu'à présent il a été décidé de réviser le questionnaire sur les services bibliographiques dans le monde. Compte tenu de la variété des questions posées et des réponses obtenues souvent peu pertinentes, il a été jugé souhaitable de le limiter dorénavant uniquement à ce qui a trait au contrôle bibliographique. Il a été également estimé qu'il suffirait d'envoyer ce questionnaire désormais tous les deux ans en raison du rythme d'évolution des services bibliographiques.

Les lecteurs sont invités à étudier le questionnaire qui figure à la page ix et à nous faire parvenir leurs observations et suggestions en vue de l'établissement du nouveau questionnaire qui sera envoyé à la fin de 1982, à l'adresse suivante:

Legal deposit for books and other material is covered by the Copyright Act 1915 and its amendments 1956, 1965. III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. The national bibliography, Canadiana, has been redesigned and in 1981 will be issued in two parts: Part I for Canadian imprints and Part 2 listing foreign publications of Canadian association. Entries will be listed in Dewey Decimal classified sequences and subarranged alphabetically by main entry. Five combined indexes will provide access to entries in both parts by author/title/series; English subject headings; French subject headings, ISBN; and ISSN. The new design provides for greater access to publications through added indexes with a fuller presentation of information. Other format changes will be introduced to improve the ease of use and readability of the bibliography. The AACR, 2nd ed., and the Règles de catalogage anglo-américain, 2nd ed., will be adopted in 1981.
During 1980, the assignment of Dewey Decimal classification numbers was extended to federal and provincial government publications, thereby providing a form of subject access to these materials for the first time.
Canadiana 1973-1980 (Microfiche) is an eight-year cumulation of Canadiana, to be published on computer-output-microfiche (42:1) in 1981. This cumulation will include, in a single source, information on more than 170,000 Canadian imprints and foreign imprints of Canadian authorship or interest that have appeared in Canadiana between 1973 and 1980. The format will be similar to that of the current Canadiana (microfiche).

Participation in UBC activities

A major contribution to the goal of UBC was achieved when Canada, in close co-operation with the Anglo-American library community through the Association of Bibliographic Agencies of Britain, Australia, Canada and the United States (ABACUS), agreed to adopt AACR 2 in 1981.

The National Library has furthered progress towards UBC in the area of national and international standard formats for machine-readable cataloguing data. During 1980 a Canadian MARC format for authority records was published, and a programme initiated to distribute Canadiana authority information on magnetic tape. As well, the Canadian MARC formats for monographs and serials were modified to accommodate the second edition of the AACR. Currently the National Library's MARC Records Distribution Service (MRDS) makes available to Canadian libraries machine-readable bibliographic records for the national imprints of the United Kingdom, the United States and in 1980 France, in standard CAN/MARC format. In exchange, the National Library provides CAN/MARC tapes to other national bibliographic agencies.

Cataloguing in publication (CIP)

The CIP programme covers monographic publications published by commercial publishers and some provincial and federal government departments. Pilot projects to extend CIP coverage of government publications were begun in 1980 with the Nova Scotia Legislative Library and the Public Archives of Canada Library acting as CIP agents for the publications of these bodies.

2. The 1867 to 1900 phase of the retrospective bibliography, entitled Canadiana 1867-1900: Monographs (IBSN 0-660-50465-0) began publication in the summer of 1980. It is published on computer-output-microfiche in a format similar to that of the microfiche edition of the current bibliography. It consists of a register listing in one numerical sequence the complete bibliographic entries, and five cumulating indexes (author/title, place and date of publication, publisher/printer and biographical subjects). The first issue of this bibliography contained some 17,000 entries. Further issues, or supplements, are being issued quarterly until input of all 36,000 records is completed. The last quarterly issues will be followed by a final cumulation of both the register and indexes.

In 1980 the National Library of Canada signed a Memorandum of Agreement with the Canadian Institute for Historical Microreproductions (CIHM) to co-operate in the cataloguing and creation and distribution of machine-readable bibliographic records for a large collection of pre-1900 Canadian titles being reproduced on microfiche by CIHM. The CIHM project involves microfilming some tens of thousands of Canadian monographs and pamphlets printed before 1900. The National Library houses the CIHM cataloguing staff, provides training in the use of bibliographic standards, and inputs bibliographic records in the CAN/MARC data base. The bibliographic records thus created represent a significant contribution to the bibliographic control of early Canadiana, and will be a valuable aid to the National Library in compiling Canada's retrospective national bibliography.

VII. INTERLIBRARY CO-OPERATION

1. Union catalogue of books - Current accessions reported by Canadian libraries in card format are now added on-line to the National Library's automated data base management system, DOBIS (Dortmund Bibliotheks System). The National Library continues to have read-only, on-line access to the holdings of many other Canadian libraries through a shared cataloguing system operated by UTLAS (University of Toronto Library Automation Systems). Some libraries report their holdings to the National Library on machine-readable tapes and others are encouraged to do so.

Union catalogue of serials - The National Library maintains a union catalogue of serials in the social sciences and humanities representing the serial holdings of over 200 Canadian libraries. Development of automated procedures for the maintenance of this catalogue and for the preparation for publication of a union list of serials in the social sciences and humanities began in 1978 and was completed in 1980. In March 1980 the manual union catalogue of serials was closed, all current serial accession reports being entered on-line into the automated data base management system. Later in 1980 input into the on-line data base of all the entries from the five specialized union lists published by the National Library was completed. The first edition of the Union list of serials in the social sciences and humanities held by Canadian libraries was produced in December 1980 on COM fiche. The list consists of a register of bibliographic records with library locations and holdings and two indexes, one by name/title/series, and one by ISSN. Library locations, holdings and brief bibliographic information are repeated for each entry in the indexes. This first issue covers and updates all the previously published selective union lists and includes, as well, many other titles in the social sciences and humanities for a total of over 15,000 records. Subsequent COM microfiche editions will be issued twice a year and will consist of additions to the register and cumulated indexes.

The following union lists were published in 1980:

2. Automated searching. Increased use is being made of DOBIS (Dortmund Bibliotheks System) and the UTLAS (University of Toronto Library Automation Systems) Reference - Catalogue System (REFCATSS) files for location and verification work corresponding to the growth of these data bases.

Interlending collection. In April 1980 the Location Division of the National Library (Division de localisation) was delegated the responsibility for the selection of additional periodical titles to improve the effectiveness of the Library's collections in meeting interloan demand.

Document delivery. Both the National Library and the Canada Institute for Scientific and Technical Information (CISTI) began using air courier services to libraries co-operating as drop-off centres for the rapid delivery of interlibrary loan material to requesting libraries in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Three levels of searching. The National Library will introduce its three levels of search service for interlibrary loans on 1 June 1981. The onus will be on the requesting library to state the level of searching they require for each interlibrary loan request: Level 1 - basic location search; Level 2 - verification and location search; Level 3 - in-depth bibliographic search.

Codes and procedures. The Canadian Library Association and ASTED published a revised interlibrary loan code.
- CLA/ASTED interlibrary loan code = ASTED/CLA code de prêt entre bibliothèques.- Ottawa: Canadian Library Association; Montreal: ASTED, 1980.- 1 v. ISBN 0-88802-134-8
Work is also under way by the two associations to publish a revised version of the interlibrary loan procedures manual in 1981.

6. In 1980 the final report of the Canadian Computerized Bibliographic Centre Study was published. It describes the proposed National Library programmes relating to computerized library network development in Canada. The implementation of these projected programmes is subject to the availability of resources and to the positive response of other institutions.

The National Library of Canada began publishing a new bilingual series of occasional papers in 1980. Canadian networks papers will encompass papers dealing with the wide variety of issues to be considered during the development of a decentralized Canadian library network. Topics which are of nationwide concern to Canadian libraries and which will contribute to the strengthening or creation of existing or future links among libraries will be examined in this series. The following was issued as no. 1 in the series:

- BUCHINSKI (Edwin J.); ISLAM (Mazharul).- The Context of interconnection for a nation-wide bibliographic network = Le Contexte de l'interconnexion dans le cadre de l'élaboration d'un réseau bibliographique national.- Ottawa: National Library of Canada, 1980.- 33 p. (Canadian network papers; no. 1) ISBN 0-662-51085-2

In December 1980 the National Librarian of Canada announced the creation of the Task Group on Computer/Communications Protocols for Bibliographic Data Interchange. The development of a decentralized nationwide bibliographic network will involve many complex tasks, one of which is the development of standardized procedures (protocols) that will enable emerging and existing library systems, utilizing different computer equipment and different computer programmes, to interchange bibliographic data.

The terms of reference of the Task Group include the recommendation of a standard protocol required for bibliographic applications. This work will be done within the framework of the Open Systems Interconnection model of the International Organization for Standardization (ISO). In addition, the Task Group will provide liaison with library and information systems across Canada on the protocol development.

The work of the Task Group began in late 1980 and will continue over a period of approximately two years. Task Group members include technical experts in various aspects of bibliographic systems development, protocol development and telecommunications.

I. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHICAL AGENCY

There are two national bibliographical agencies in China. One is the Union Catalogue Division of the National Library of China, created in 1957 (7 Wen Jin Street, Beijing). It is in charge of editing and publishing the union catalogue of foreign and Chinese journals, received by the major libraries in the whole country, and the union catalogue of specialized books. The other is the National Archive Library of Chinese Publications, created in 1950 (36 Ren Ming Road, Beijing). It regularly edits and publishes a bulletin entitled National bibliography of current books (monthly).

II. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. Based on the current publications sent by the various publishing houses of the country, the National Archive Library of Chinese Publications has regularly issued the National bibliography of current books since 1950. The ISBN has not been adopted as yet. The description entries include title, imprints, as well as price, and so on.
   China has not participated in UBC activities, but is now planning to adopt the ISBD.
   Based on the deposit of current books sent by the various publishing houses, the National Library of China is responsible for the compiling and printing of centralized cataloguing cards and furnishing them to libraries all over the country.

2. A National bibliography of Chinese old and rare books is being compiled. All old and rare Chinese books collected by the major libraries will be recorded in it and it is estimated that it will be published in 1984.

IV. SPECIAL TYPES OF DOCUMENTS

The National bibliography of current books includes names and titles of books listed by subject as follows:

2). Official publications and government documents.

4). Maps and atlases.

5). Musical scores.

11). Standards.

V. CURRENT SPECIALIZED BIBLIOGRAPHIES

The Index to materials on Lu Xun has recently been published, compiled jointly by the National Library of China and the Institute of Chinese Literature, the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences. At the same time, the Press of Bibliography and Documentation has also published the General catalogue of personal chronicles of Chinese celebrities through the ages.

VII. INTERLIBRARY CO-OPERATION

There is no co-operation on an international level.

VIII. PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS

The China Society of Library Science was founded on 9 July 1979. It is a nationwide learned organization with mass participation; it publishes a quarterly Bulletin of the China Society of Library Science.

CUBA

Information supplied by Olga Vega, Chief of the Department of Bibliographical Research, José Martí National Library, Ciudad Habana.

I. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHICAL AGENCY

The Department of Bibliographical Research at the José Martí National Library is responsible for compiling the national bibliography, the General index of Cuban periodical publications, specialized bibliographies and indexes of periodicals just published. The Department also keeps the Cuban union catalogue of serial publications.

The Department was opened in April 1978. Its address is: Biblioteca Nacional José Martí, Avenida de Independencia entre 20 de Mayo y Aranguren, Plaza de la Revolución, Ciudad Habana.

It plans to publish the national bibliography more frequently and to prepare bibliographical handbooks on the basis of the ISBD.

III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. From 1980 onwards the bibliography has been published in two volumes. The first concerns books and pamphlets, serial publications and bibliographies, while the second volume deals with special types of material. Each volume is accompanied by indexes (analytical, title, publishing series and collection).

   On account of the variety of materials included, the entries are not always arranged in the same way. Some sections are arranged in alphabetical order, others in chronological order, and books and pamphlets are set out according to subject matter, following the Dewey Decimal Classification system.

   The entries are set out according to the rules of the Bibliographical handbook of the Dag Hammarskjöld Library, with certain ajustments made according to the AACR used at the National Library for processing the collection. It has sometimes proved necessary to create special rules for specific types of material not stored in the institution.

V. CURRENT SPECIALIZED BIBLIOGRAPHIES

The José Martí National Library compiled a number of current specialized bibliographies in 1980 which are in the process of publication. For the moment there is no centralized bibliographical control for the whole country.

VI. ABSTRACTING AND INDEXING OF SERIAL PUBLICATIONS

Reference bulletins and awareness lists on culture and art in the following fields: music, literature, theatre and dance, visual arts, etc., have recently been published.

VII. INTERLIBRARY CO-OPERATION

1. Catálogo colectivo cubano de publicaciones seriadas. Up to 1980 about 27,000 Cuban and foreign titles had been collected of works in the fields of science, technology and human sciences, held in 237 participating libraries.

3. There is an international exchange service with some 1,600 institutions throughout the world.

VIII. PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS

There are no national associations.

II. LEGAL DEPOSIT

CAP 79 of the Laws, and Laws 69 of 1965 and 45 of 1979 refer to the Printing and Publication of Newspapers and Other Publications, the Registration of Books and the Keeping of Printing Presses. The Law was published in 1947 and amended in 1965 and 1969. Article 13 concerns the responsibility of the printers to deliver free of charge to the Minister under the President three printed or lithographed copies of the whole of any book produced in Cyprus within one month after the day on which any such book shall first be delivered out of the press. There is a penalty of two pounds for any printer who fails to comply with the provision of the law. The Minister under the President may, by order published in the Gazette, exclude any class of books from the operation of this part of the law.

There shall be kept at the Ministry under the President a book to be called A Catalogue of books printed in Cyprus wherein shall be registered a memorandum of every book which shall have been delivered pursuant to Section 13 of the law. Unfortunately the law is not fully enacted and the register is not held properly. There are no statistics of documents received.

III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. No current national bibliography exists in Cyprus. An attempt is now being made by the Cultural Service of the Ministry of Education to start such a bibliography but up to the moment there is no relation with the legal deposit as there is no national library yet. ISBNs and CIP have not yet been applied in Cyprus publications.

2. Retrospective bibliographies have been compiled by individuals and therefore there is no full coverage. The most prominent one is by Costas Kyriazes, Kypriaki Vivliographia, published in 1936, which covers Cyprus publications up to 1935.

IV. SPECIAL TYPE OF MATERIALS

2. The Government Printing Office publishes a list of government publications which are available for sale.

4. Cyprus geographical bibliography/by the Cyprus Geographical Association.- Nicosia (P.O. Box 3655). Lists books, pamphlets, maps and atlases published in or outside Cyprus.

VII. INTERLIBRARY CO-OPERATION

2. Inland interlibrary lending is still carried out on an informal basis. However, the Interlibrary Co-operation Centre, Cultural Service, Ministry of Education, which was set up in 1978, has connected Cyprus with its counterparts abroad especially the British Library, and there is a continuous increase in the number of requests satisfied each year.

FIJI

Information supplied by David Hamilton, Deputy Librarian, University of the South Pacific Library, P.O. Box 1168, Suva.

I. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHICAL AGENCY

The University of the South Pacific Library has created a Regional Bibliographical Centre (1980) which produces the following publications: Fiji national bibliography and Bibliography of periodicals articles relating to the South Pacific.

II. LEGAL DEPOSIT

By the Libraries (Deposit of Books) Act 1971 printers and publishers (of books printed outside Fiji) are required to deposit books within one month to the National Archives of Fiji and to the University of the South Pacific Library. Penalties: fine up to $ 100.

III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

The Fiji national bibliography (FNB) is compiled by staff of the University of the South Pacific Library with the assistance of the Library Services of Fiji who provide staff assistance and also the funds for publication; input is also received from the National Archives of Fiji and from the South Pacific Commission (Noumea, New Caledonia).

FNB cataloguing is done according to AACR 2; LC subject headings are applied; the FNB is arranged by Dewey 18th but without Dewey numbers. An author/title and a subject index to monographs are included. The first two issues of FNB have included publications from the year 1970 up to 1980. There is no retrospective bibliography of publications prior to 1970.

There is no cataloguing in publications in Fiji, no ISBN and no automated systems.

IV. SPECIAL TYPES OF MATERIAL

Serial publications and parliamentary papers are listed in the FNB in special sections.

University theses are listed with monographs.

6. Books about Fiji are listed in the FNB.

V. CURRENT SPECIALIZED BIBLIOGRAPHIES

- Bibliography of periodical articles relating to the South Pacific. Volumes 1-3 covering literature published in 1974-1976 have been published in those years by the USP Library. Volumes 4-5 (1977-1978)(in one volume) are in the final stages of preparation. From 1979 onwards, the volume will no longer cover one year's publications but include as much recent current literature as can be indexed.

VII. INTERLIBRARY CO-OPERATION

The USP Library, the Library Service of Fiji and the National Archives of Fiji co-operate in the production of the FNB. Libraries from other countries and the region, notably the Library of the South Pacific Commission in New Caledonia, co-operate in the production of the Bibliography of periodical articles relating to the South Pacific.

FINLAND

Information supplied by Thea Aulo, Head of the Bibliographic Department, Helsinki University Library, Tukholmankatu 2, 00250 Helsinki 25.

II. LEGAL DEPOSIT

The new Deposit Copy Law (12 June 1980) has somewhat altered the situation from 1 January 1981: printers must now deliver 6 copies of all printed matter (only 2 copies of very expensive books); publishers shall deliver copies of books printed abroad but published in Finland or for Finland; producers of audio-visual material shall deliver 2 copies of visual and sound recordings produced in 50 or more copies from the same original. The authority controlling the observance of the law is the Helsinki University Library. It may impose a penalty for producers and publishers neglecting the delivery of deposit copies. During the transition period, the Deposit Copy Office has disseminated information about the new law to producers and publishers.

III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. From the beginning of 1982 a new five-year catalogue period will commence and the second part of the cataloguing rules (Access points) will be altered to correspond with AACR 2. The bibliographic descriptions follow the ISBD rules.

2. As the National Bibliography Office suffers from a considerable lack of trained cataloguers, it is not possible to edit a retrospective bibliography at present.

INDONESIA

Information supplied by Mastini Hardjo Prakoso, Director, the National Library, Merdeka Barat 12, P.O. Box 3624, Jakarta, Pusat.

I. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHICAL AGENCY

The National Library of Indonesia was established by a Ministerial Decree on 17 May 1980. It was a merger of four libraries: the National Museum Library, the Library of the Social and Political History, the Provincial Library of Jakarta Raya, the Bibliography and Deposit Division of the Centre for Library Development.

It is in charge of all matters regarding bibliographic control, the access to publications, the exchange programme and all information services which deal with the above-mentioned four library components.

IRAN

Information supplied by the Tehran Book Processing Centre (TEBROC), P.O. Box 51-1126, Tehran.

I. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHIC AGENCY

There is no national bibliographic agency as such in Iran. Several organizations are in charge of collection and publication of general and specialized bibliographies, the most important of which are:

1. The National Library, in charge of publication of the Iranian national bibliography.
2. The Tehran Book Processing Centre, in charge of publication of directories, general bibliographies and union catalogues.
3. The Iranian Documentation Centre, in charge of publication of special bibliographies and the union list of serials.
4. The Asian Culture Foundation, in charge of publication of special bibliographies.
5. Some other research organizations and major libraries and documentation centres, such as the Central Bank, the Iranian National Oil Company, now the Oil Ministry, etc., also publish special bibliographies or indexes.

II. LEGAL DEPOSIT

The legal deposit law dates from 1907, amended in 1965. The law is still in force and the National Library is receiving the deposited copies. The total number of copies of documents registered in 1975-1979 was approximately 8,784.

III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHIES

1. The Iranian national bibliography is published by the National Library. It is a quarterly publication using general rules of AACR and broad DDC with author, title and subject indexes. It covers (a) commercially published books; (b) some government publications; and (c) titles of serials received at the INL. The Tehran Book Processing Centre (TEBROC) is in charge of the research work for the establishment of cataloguing rules, the creation of the Persian subject headings list, and the adaptation of the DDC and LCC to the needs of Iranian libraries. In this capacity TEBROC is co-operating with the UBC Office and other international agencies.

ISBD is used on TEBROC cards and will hopefully be adopted in the INB in the coming years.

2. Retrospective bibliographies covering the period of 1975-1979 do not exist. No cumulation of the INB is foreseen, but the Iranian national union catalogue, Persian and Arabic section, is collecting all retrospective materials kept in major Iranian libraries.
The only retrospective general bibliography to be recorded is:
MOSHĀR (Khān babā).- Fehrest-e Ketābhā-ye Chāppi-ye Fārsi.- Tehran: 1971-1977.

IV. SPECIAL TYPES OF MATERIALS

1. Serial publications are listed in the national bibliography. The Directory of Iranian periodicals compiled by Poori Soltani and published annually by TEBROC is the only current directory of the type, but does not cover newspapers. The Iranian union list of serials compiled by Ali Tamizi and published by IRANDOC is another reference work of this type.

2. Official publications are partially compiled in the national bibliography. IRANDOC is in charge of their collection but they are also recorded partially in the Iranian national union catalogue, Persian section, and will be incorporated in this publication.

3. Dissertations are only collected by the degree-offering universities and colleges. Exceptions are dissertations presented to foreign universities and colleges, which are collected by IRANDOC (for those relating to science and technology) and by the Central Library and Information Centre of Tehran University (for those relating to the humanities and the social sciences). TEBROC collects dissertations presented to Iranian library schools and has published A Classified catalog of MLS dissertations in Iran.

Its functions are: to acquire all books and periodicals published in Kenya, authored by Kenyans and treating Kenya as a subject; to catalogue and organize the material acquired; to compile and distribute the national bibliography of Kenya regularly; to acquire manuscripts, maps, films, etc. produced in Kenya; to maintain a union catalogue; to act as a national reference and research library; to facilitate exchange of publications between Kenya and other nations; to further the aims of UBC; and to act as a centre for ISBN and ISSN.

During the period under review it finalized start-up operations and it plans to prepare the compilation of the Kenya national bibliography 1980.

II. LEGAL DEPOSIT

By the Books and Newspapers Ordinance (Kenya Laws, Chapter III), first published on 19 July 1960 and revised in 1962, publishers are required to deposit 3 copies of every title published with the Registrar of Books and Newspapers, Department of the Registrar-General in the Office of the Attorney-General, within 14 days after the date of publication. The Registrar of Books and Newspapers then delivers one copy of every title to the National Collection and Bibliographic Agency. The Kenya National Archives and the University of Nairobi also receive one copy each.

A publisher who fails to make these deposits is liable to a fine not exceeding ten thousand shillings (about US$ 1,250) or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year (or to both fine and imprisonment.

The Agency received 122 titles in 1980.
The legal deposit law does not cover government (official) publications.

II. LEGAL DEPOSIT

The Decree on Legal and Cultural Deposit (Presidential Decree No. 812) was promulgated on 18 October 1975 and took effect on 18 January 1976. The responsibility for effecting the deposit falls on the printer or publisher. Section 2(a) of the Decree stipulates that the printer or publisher must furnish, free of charge and within one month after publication, two copies of every new book or printed material to the National Library and one copy each to the University of the Philippines Main Library, the Cultural Center of the Philippines Library, the University of the Philippines Library at Cebu City, and the Mindanao State University Library. Section 3(a) indicates that '"Book" includes all printed literary works, musical arrangements, catalogues, periodicals, government publications, prints, photographs, drawings and other graphic arts, maps, plans, charts and tables, and all supplements thereto, whether in their original form or adaptations or reproductions of the same, which are made available for sale or for free distribution to the general public ...'. Section 2(b) also requires all 'departments, bureaux, offices and branches of government including the provinces and municipalities, and government-owned or government-controlled corporations ordering the printing of any publication ...' to furnish the National Library at least fifty copies of all printed reports or documents of any kind for exchange purposes.

In case of total non-compliance through bad faith or partial compliance through negligence, the publisher or printer is liable to pay a fine of not less that ₱ 50 and not more than ₱ 500 upon conviction. If the publisher fails to provide a printed copy of the work because it is no longer available, the value of the work is added to the fine.

A Legal Deposit Office has been set up in the National Library to take charge of the implementation of the decree. It keeps a record of all items deposited with the National Library and attends to the publication of the list in the Official gazette at the end of each quarter as required in Section 7 of the Decree. In 1980 the number of copies of various materials received on deposit totalled 67,320. There were 585 monographs and 469 serial titles.

III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. The Philippines participates in UBC activities. Changes were introduced in the PNB starting with Volume 3 to conform with the guidelines for national bibliographies prepared by the Conference on Universal Bibliographic Control in Southeast Asia held in Singapore on 21-23 February 1975. AACR 2 is being implemented in the National Library as well as in academic and special libraries in the country.
Cataloguing in publication is carried out to a limited extent in the Philippines. A small group of authors who have recognized the value of having their books already classified and provided with subject headings before the copies come off the press have made use of the services of cataloguers of the National Library.

2. A retrospective national bibliography for the period 1523-1699 was compiled separately. This is:
- Philippine retrospective national bibliography: 1523-1699/ compiled by Gabriel A. Bernardo with the assistance of Natividad P. Verzosa; Ed. by John N. Schumacher.- Manila: National Library of the Philippines; Ateneo de Manila University Press (c. 1974).- 160 p. (Occasional papers of the Department of History, Ateneo de Manila. VII. INTERLIBRARY CO-OPERATION

Co-operation between and among libraries and documentation centres exists at the national level, but this is on an informal basis. There is no central institution responsible for this co-operation. Several academic libraries in the Metro Manila area have entered into consortia where interlibrary lending and use and co-operative acquisitions are the principal activities. Some of these consortia are:

1. Graduate Library Consortium with the University of the East, University of Santo Tomas, Far Eastern University and Centro Escolar University as participants.

2. Graduate Consortium in Business among the business colleges of De La Salle University, Ateneo de Manila University, University of the Philippines, and the Asian Institute of Management.
3. Consortium among Centro Escolar University, La Consolación College, College of the Holy Spirit, and San Beda College, which are located close to each other.
4. Inter-Institutional Consortium among De La Salle University, Philippine Christian University, Philippine Normal College, St Paul College of Manila, and St Scholastica's College.

The latter plans to embark on a centralized cataloguing scheme some time this year.

An on-going project of the National Library is the "Survey of intellectual resources" which will lead to the establishment of a computer-based Philippine national union catalogue (PN-UNICAT). More than 700 libraries are participants in the project.

At the regional level, the National Library and the University of the Philippines Library are participants in the compilation of the Masterlist of Southeast Asian microforms which is a project of the Southeast Asian Regional Branch of the International Council on Archives (SARBICA) and the Conference of Southeast Asian Librarians (CONSAL).

The Scientific Library and Documentation Division, National Science Development Board, serves as the ISDS national centre and is a member/participant of the ISDS-Southeast Asia Regional Centre (ISDS-SEA).

The National Library is a member of the National Libraries and Documentation Center - Southeast Asia (NLDC-SEA) Consortium which has as one of its objectives: 'To provide access to all library materials excepting classified items, emanating from countries of the Consortium, at reasonable cost and within reasonable time, such access to be facilitated through interlibrary loans, provision of photocopying/microforms, and assistance in procurement'.

There are no automated documentary networks as yet in the country, but the National Science Development Board and the University of the Philippines Institute for Small-Scale Industries are involved in networking libraries in science and technology and industrial information, respectively. The latter and the Economic Development Foundation are participants in TECHNONET Asia (Asian Network for Industrial Technology Information and Extension).

SWEDEN

II. LEGAL DEPOSIT

According to the present legislation, valid from 1979, the number of copies to be delivered are seven. Addressees are the National Library (i.e. the Royal Library) and the six Swedish university libraries, situated in Göteborg, Linköping, Lund, Stockholm, Uppsala and Umeå.

The printer is usually obliged to deposit such copies; the publisher only has to if a publication is printed abroad.

The law directs that copies of books produced during every quarter of a year are to be deposited within one month from the end of this period. Omissions are punishable by a fine. The law explicitly requires only the National Library and Lund University Library to preserve every item deposited.

There are some limitations to the printer's obligation. Only the National Library in Stockholm and Lund University Library claim for unaltered new impressions. Textbooks and teaching aids are also delivered in two copies. Another exception to the general rule of seven copies is the requirement of three copies of newspapers, one of them for microfilm - this copy will later on be destroyed.

III. NATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. The Swedish national bibliography is produced by data processing and photocomposition from a magnetic tape in the SWEMARC format, an output from the LIBRIS system. This tape is also available for exchange. The bibliography is alphabetically arranged with a systematic index.

   The standards used are Svenska katalogiseringsregler (1974), based on ISBD(M), ISBD(S) and AACR 1, and Klassifikationssystem för svenska bibliotek, a national classification scheme.

   The Swedish ISBN and ISDS centres are part of the National Bibliographical Section of the Bibliographical Department. ISBN and ISSN are recorded in the national bibliography.

There will be some changes in the cataloguing rules as a consequence of the adaption of AACR 2.

VII. INTERLIBRARY CO-OPERATION

6. LIBRIS (Library information system) is a computer-based information system for the Swedish research libraries, used for searching and shared cataloguing of book acquisitions and for the output of a number of catalogue products. The Swedish national bibliography and Accessionskatalog över utländsk litteratur i svenska forskningsbibliotek (Union catalogue of foreign books in Swedish research libraries) are examples of such products. Furthermore, the Swedish contributions to the Nordic union catalogue of periodicals, NOSP, are produced from the LIBRIS data base in the form of magnetic tapes.
The system comprises at present twenty-one libraries with permanent access to the system. Moreover, many libraries have dial-up access.
